Keeping Britain glowing for over 85 years

Whether it's the hot shower after football training or toasty socks straight off the radiator, we provide that cosy glow that keeps everyone going.

Since 1934 we've been building efficient and robust boilers, controls, and accessories that provide the families of Britain with the warmth and hot water they need. In 2001 we were acquired by the Vaillant Group, one of Europe's largest heating and hot water appliance manufacturers, enabling us to develop innovative new technologies, while keeping our roots at our state-of-the-art factory in Belper, Derbyshire.

Trusted by families nationwide

Glow-worm is a name you can rely on. The high-quality build and performance of our products have earned us an 'Excellent' rating from our customers on Trust Pilot.

Is Betacom right for you?

Betacom is a combi boiler. A combi boiler heats water and provides central heating in combination. Connecting directly to the mains, heating water on demand, there's no need for a storage tank or a cylinder. This makes it nice and compact, so it's ideal for homes with one or two bathrooms or properties with limited space.
